We combine modern cutting-edge technologies with 8000 years of wine-making traditions passed down through generations of winemakers to produce wine with character and quality.

After 1991 the founder of Kakhuri Gvinis Marani started reclaiming the family owned vineyards that were confiscated from his ancestors by the Soviet authorities in 1920s. In 2005 the company built a new winery in Gurjaani in the center of Kakheti.

What makes us special.

1. Family owned wine company
2. Wine of Quality and Character
3. Merging of traditions, modern creativity and technologies.
4. Wine harvested from only our own vineyards.

We produce:

1. Wine both by European and traditional technologies are bottled in glass and in ceramic bottles.
2. Georgian Brandy aged from three to more than ten years
3. Chacha- traditional spirits made by distillation of grape skin and juice.

CERAMIC

WINE IN CERAMIC BOTTLES

Making Ceramic bottles with clay is an old Georgian art. We bottle our wine in many different designs of ceramic bottles. Each bottle is handmade and bottled with traditional method. Except for beautiful shapes these bottles have one more advantage: Ceramic bottle give more characteristic taste to alcoholic beverages. It is symbolic and ideal for present.

CHACHA FROM GEORGIAN GRAPE AGED IN OAK

Made from a careful selection of grapes produced in Kakheti region. Chacha (Georgian: ჭაჭა) is a strong spirit made of the grape residue (pomace) left after making wine. Georgian Chacha is as versatile in its taste characteristics and making technologies as Georgian wine. It is an extremely popular drink here and the honored representative of Georgian gastronomic culture.

KAKHURI GVINIS MARANI

Georgian Brandy is a traditional Georgian strong alcoholic drink made by distilling the best Georgian wines and aged in oak barrels over 10 years old. Oak gives Brandy its distinctive tones and its amber color.

Georgian Chacha is a traditional strong alcoholic drink, made by Rkatsiteli and Mtsvane grape varieties. Chacha is made by double distillation of grape must. It is colorless transparent drink, with harmonious aroma.
